STANDARDS COMPLIANT PRODUCT EVALUATION PROGRAM (SCoPE) aabb.org/accreditation

AABB’s Standards Compliant Product Evaluation (SCoPE) Program is designed to benefit both vendors and customers by certifying that a product is in compliance with AABB Standards.

As part of this new program, vendors of laboratory equipment and supplies can apply to have their products reviewed by AABB’s Accreditation team. If the product is determined to be in compliance with AABB Standards, it will receive an “AABB Standards-Compliant” seal.

Products achieving SCoPE recognition will be available on the AABB website.

</tbody>
</table>

Scholarship Awards

$20,000

These awards honors current students enrolled in Specialist in Blood Banking (SBB) programs or as a fellow in a transfusion medicine program. Support includes corporate recognition and logo at the presentation luncheon, five invitations to the event and two invitations to the President’s Reception.

Unrestricted or Educational Grant Support

PhRMA and AdvaMed guidelines state that educational grants may be provided to organizations, such as AABB, to offset and reduce meeting expenses. This grant opportunity is structured with various price points and can be combined with other support opportunities to increase your support level and benefits.
AABB’s National Blood Foundation (NBF) drives innovation through scientific research and education grants. The NBF early-career grant program has funded more than 200 investigators – many have become leaders in the field. Help support NBF’s mission of fueling innovation for the benefit of patients and donors by contributing your support.

NBF Reception
$4,000 ★
Corporate recognition during this invitation-only executive networking event celebrating NBF’s Hall of Fame members, recent incoming scholars, major contributors and individual donors.
